

Special non-formal activities for “end of the school year” day

8.00 – 9.00

Preparation of the day – make the classrooms “non-formal”

9.00 – 11.00

Preparation for summer holiday at the classroom

I. PART

Welcome to next year's class. Take a 12x18 sheet of white construction paper and fold it into 6 boxes. Draw a picture in each box:

Side One:

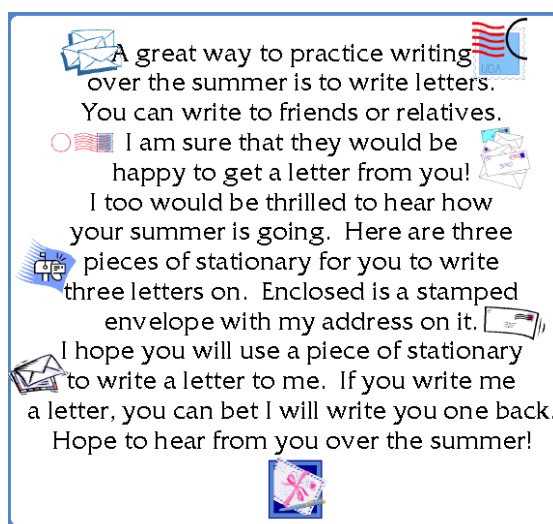

1. Write "Welcome Back to School" in big, fancy letters.
2. Draw a picture of your favorite school lunch.
3. Illustrate a scene from your favorite library book. Include the title and author.
4. Draw a picture of your teacher.
5. Illustrate your favorite "special subject" (art, music, P.E., etc.)
6. Draw all of the school supplies that a student in your class needs.

Side Two:

1. Write one important class rule. Draw a neat border around it.
2. Write the word RESPONSIBILITY in fancy letters. Write a short poem about responsibility.
3. Write the word RESPECT in fancy letters, each letter in a different color. Make a border of words and phrases that describe what respect means to you.
4. Draw a picture of friends working together. Describe a time this year when friends working together had wonderful results.
1. 5. Draw a picture of your school building. Include the school name and write the phrase "Home of _____".
5. Write the name of your favorite holiday. Draw a picture of one way we observed this holiday in class.

II. PART

Inspire students to maintain their writing skills during summer break by giving each child a small gift and a promise. To prepare each gift, place three decorated sheets of stationery and a stamped, self-addressed envelope in a decorated bag with this letter. Distribute the bags on the last day of school. Invite each child to write a friendly letter to you this summer. Suggest that students describe special summer happenings in their letters. Promise to reply to each letter that you receive. It may be as much of a treat for you to read about your students' summer adventures as it will be for them to get letters from you!
